

Training for Law Enforcement

Portland, Oregon - October 4-5, 2012

"Hi, my name is Lacy. I was born in the hospital just down the street 15 years ago. I am being rented over and over every night in our own community. Will you please help me?"

CEU/CLE Credits Available

Do You Know Lacy? Training Identifying and Protecting Child Victims of Sex Trafficking

CALLING ALL:
LOCAL, STATE OR FEDERAL LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS

Sex trafficking ranks the second most profitable organized crime worldwide. Experts estimate at least 100,000 American juveniles are victimized through prostitution each year here in the U.S.

Children are being prostituted and exploited through child sex trafficking in your city and you are the first line of defense for victims - but only if you are equipped to identify and protect them.

Join us at this unique two-day Do You Know Lacy? training, a 6-track community training that provides identification and intervention tools to law enforcement, prosecutors, juvenile service providers, youth advocates, community members, and Defenders (men only). Together, with these leaders in your community, you will learn about the national issue of domestic minor sex trafficking, hear the personal account of a survivor, and understand the dynamics that make a child vulnerable to this crime and how pimps/traffickers operate. Over 50% of your training will be spent with fellow law enforcement officers in a closed session to discuss investigation techniques and identification methods.

This high-caliber training will be provided by Sgt. Mike Geiger of Portland Police Department, Sgt. John Chapman of Vancouver Police Department and Detective Billy Woolf of the Fairfax, Virginia Gang Unit.

This training will equip you to:

- Identify potential victims of human trafficking
- Take specific steps to achieve successful investigations
- Properly recognize and handle evidence, issue search warrants,

This program is eligible for 11 continuing education credit hours with the Oregon Department of Public Safety Standards and Training, the Washington State Criminal Justice Training Commission, and/or your state's Bar Association.

This program is also approved by the National Association of Social Workers for 7 continuing education hours.

All eligible attendees will receive a certificate of completion for their records or credit submission.

REGISTRATION

Yes, I want to register

- and formulate operation plans
- Process a case from investigation to conviction using actual case studies
- Understand state and federal laws related to trafficking

"Shared Hope International has clearly demonstrated leadership on the subject of sex trafficking of U.S. children... I consider it extremely important that the training and awareness they provide be made widely available throughout the nation. Our children's lives depend on it."

*- Sgt. John Chapman, Vancouver Police Department
Vancouver, Washington*

You do not want to miss this incredible training opportunity. Register your department today at www.DoYouKnowLacy.com.

When:

October 4: 9:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m. (Registration begins at 8:00 a.m.)

October 5: 9:00 a.m. - 3:00 p.m.

Where:

Embassy Suites

7900 NE 82nd Avenue

Portland, OR 97220

Discounted hotel rates are available for a limited time

Registration:

Online Registration: $100

Online Registration Deadline: September 30

Day-of Registration: $110, space permitting

Register here: www.DoYouKnowLacy.com

Continuing education credits, lunch and training materials included in registration fee.

Not able to attend? Shared Hope International is hosting Sharing the Hope 2012 November 28 - December 1 in Washington, D.C. Join us for three dynamic days of education, discussion and celebration. Events include Do You Know Lacy? training, National Colloquium: Shelter and Service Evaluation for Action, Sharing the Hope Gala and Pathbreaker Award Ceremony, and the release of the 2012 Protected Innocence Report Cards. For more information and to register, click here.

Shared Hope International was established in 1998 to prevent, rescue and restore, and bring justice to women and children in crisis. We provide leadership in awareness, training, prevention strategies, restorative care, research, and policy initiatives. Through partnerships with the Department of Justice and law enforcement agencies around the nation, Shared Hope has trained over 11,000 professionals.

Please add savelives@sharedhope.org to your email whitelist so our communications won't be blocked by your filter. Thanks!

Do not use your "This is Spam" or "Report Spam" buttons, as this action will not unsubscribe you.

To send correspondence by mail, please write to:
Shared Hope International
P.O. Box 65337
Vancouver, WA 98665

If you suspect a human trafficking case, call the National Human Trafficking Hotline at 1-888-3737-888. It's secure and anonymous and accessible 24 hours a day, 7 days per week. Privacy Policy